HISTORICAL NOTE:

The election year 1952 was a landmark for the Arizona Republican Party. Barry M. Goldwater was elected to the U. S. Senate, John Rhodes was elected to the U. S. House of Representatives and Howard Pyle was elected Governor. Prior to this, the last Arizona Republican to have served in Congress was Senator Ralph Cameron whose term ended in 1927. The election results were remarkable considering that registered voters in the Democratic Party members outnumbered those in the Republican Party by 4:1. This watershed election not only signaled the resurgence of the Party's fortunes in Arizona but was also a harbinger of change in voting patterns elsewhere in the U.S. Subsequent Republican Governors elected between the 1950s and 1990s were Paul Fannin, Jack Williams, Evan Mecham, J. (John) Fife Symington III and Jane Dee Hull.

Paul Fannin was elected to the U. S. Senate in 1964 and served two terms. Sam Steiger was elected in 1967 to the House of Representatives. Between the 1970s and 2000s the Arizona Republican Party also experienced considerable success in electing John B. Conlan, Bob Stump, Eldon Rudd, John McCain, Jim Kolbe, John Kyle, J. D. Hayworth, John Shadegg, Matt Salmon and Jay Rhodes to national offices while at the same time gradually gaining equity in registration with the Arizona Democratic Party. The Party also succeeded in electing many Republicans to the Arizona State Legislature and local offices making it the dominant political party in the State.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE:

The bulk of the collection covers the post Goldwater period (Barry Goldwater's 1986 retirement from the U. S. Senate) after which he exerted less direct influence upon activities of the state Party. Strengths of the collection are the documentation of reapportionment and redistricting, grass roots political activities, fundraising, the selection of local, state and national delegates and local and national political campaign material.

Arranged in three series and alphabetically within:

Series I: Arizona Republican Party, 1962-2009. Folders reflect the original headings created by Arizona Republican Party staff. There are many gaps in the records as party files are reportedly purged every two years when the Party leadership changes. With the exception of Mike Minnaugh's Chairmanship in the late 1990s, there are few Party Chairman files with correspondence and memos documenting policy making and campaign strategies. Only a few issues of the Party's newspapers, the Arizona Republican Voice and Arizona Republican, are found in this collection.

Series II: Photographs, 1952 – 2001.

This series contains an extensive collection of original photographs of Arizona Republican Party officials, delegates, candidates, office holders, group photographs of meetings, dinners, receptions and various political events 1970s–2000. Also included are photographic files of national political figures 1952-1990s such as Dwight D. Eisenhower and family Richard M. Nixon and family Mary Dent Crisp Spiro Agnew Henry Cabot Lodge Gerald M. Ford George H. W. Bush George W. Bush and Dan Quayle.

Series III: National Republican Party, 1952-2000

Sylvia Barnes, longtime Arizona Republican Party volunteer and activist, attended Republican National Conventions for almost fifty years and was an inveterate collector of campaign literature and memorabilia. She donated these extensive materials to the Arizona Republican Party. The 1952 and 1956 Presidential Campaigns are particularly well-documented. She was a staff member of the 1952 Eisenhower Presidential Campaign while residing in New York City. These staff files relate to campaign schedules and appearances.

A box of binders containing Arizona Republican Party Executive Committee minutes, 1983-1998, and other files was discovered and added to the collection April 23, 2012
