BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE: Morris Goldwater, esteemed uncle of Senator Barry M. Goldwater, was born to Michel and Sarah in London, England in 1852. At the age of two, along with his mother, older sister Carolyn (b. 1850), and aunt, Morris came to San Francisco, California via the Isthmus of Nicaragua. His childhood was spent with his family in California where he studied and apprenticed to become a merchant.

In 1867 Morris came to Arizona in the footsteps of his father Big Mike. He had aspirations to become a merchant like his father was and assisted in the operations of the Goldwater stores in La Paz and Ehrenberg. In 1872, the Goldwaters opened the first Phoenix store. As manager of this location, Morris donated part of the store to the federal government to act as the first telegraph office in Phoenix. Morris worked as the operator without pay. It was during his stay in Phoenix that Morris made his first foray into politics. He ran for the territorial legislature as a Democrat but pulled out after recognizing his campaign was hindering the election of the Democratic frontrunner. Despite the false start, Morris remained active in Arizona politics all his life.

In 1876, after the closure of the Phoenix store, Morris and his brothers Henry and Baron opened a store in Prescott, Arizona. It was here that Morris settled and became active in civic affairs and Masonry. Morris was the mayor of Prescott on and off for a total of 20 years. His political career also included roles as councilman of Prescott, member of the 12th Territorial Council of Yavapai County, Chairman of the Territorial Democratic Central Committee, Supervisor of Yavapai County, President of the 20th Territorial Legislature, and Vice President of the Arizona Constitutional Convention. Morris was a respected and influential participant in both territorial Arizona and its emergence as a state.

Morris was also very active in the Masonic community in Arizona. He organized the Order of the Eastern Star of Arizona and was elected Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Arizona and Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Arizona. In 1903, Morris received the Honorary 33° of the Scottish Rite Masons, one of the highest ranks of a Mason. For over 50 years, his role as a mason assisted him in all aspects of business and politics. He was also a founding member and Secretary of the Arizona Bankers Association 1903-1930.

In 1906, Morris married his long-time landlady Sarah (Sally) Shivers Fisher and was happily married until her death in 1934. They had no children but Morris devoted much of his time to nurturing his nieces and nephews. He worked closely with nephews Bob and Barry Goldwater as they managed the Goldwater store in Phoenix. He greatly influenced a sense of civic duty and public service on Barry. Morris stayed active in business, banking, politics, and Masonry up until his death on April 11, 1939. In 1964, Senator Barry M. Goldwater honored his uncle by nominating him as “Man of the Century” during the Prescott Centennial celebration. Morris was awarded the honor and a plaque stands there in his memory.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE: The collection is arranged into eight series: Series I: Personal; Series II: Correspondence; Series III: Political; Series IV: Masonic; Series V: Financial; Series VI: Memorabilia; Series VII: Oversized, Financial; and Series VIII: Oversized, General. Files are arranged alphabetically and chronologically within.

Original order of this collection is unknown. The arrangement and description of the collection is based upon an aggregation of materials found both within Senator Goldwater's personal family history files and other fragments of the AHF holdings.

Series I: Personal includes biographies, records of family history, legal documents including material pertaining to Goldwater's stores, and membership records.

Series II: Correspondence contains material of a personal, financial, and business nature. Included is correspondence between Morris and his extended family. The correspondence is arranged alphabetically and organized chronologically within.

Series III: Political includes certificates of election, government and legislative documents, and scrapbooks of newsclippings related to Arizona Territorial political activities.

Series IV: Masonic includes records, correspondence, and memorabilia of the many Masonic organizations Morris was a part of. This series is organized by Masonic lodge or chapter.

Series V: Financial includes invoice books, small ledgers, financial statements, stock certificates, and tax records.

Series VI: Memorabilia includes announcements, invitations, newsclippings, scrapbooks, and a Goldwater bibliography compiled by the staff of the Arizona Historical Foundation during the 1960s in the form of a small card catalog.

Series VII: Oversized, Financial includes 50 large financial ledgers documenting 19th and 20th century Goldwater enterprises. A number of books include indexes, listing a veritable Who's Who in Territorial Arizona. Clients range from clergy and religious orders to the U.S. Army, miners, ranchers, and tribal nations. Records provide insight into the business relationships, buying habits, and merchandizing practices of the Old West. Some ledgers were originally bound in leather, some found without covers. Bindings were removed due to extensive water damage, dry rot, and insect infestation. Two books were copied on acid-free paper due to extensive mold damage. Some pages are illegible, torn or missing.

Series VIII: Oversized, General includes an oversized scrapbook of newsclippings and memorabilia, Goldwater store items, a memorial scrapbook of Morris Goldwater compiled by his nephew Senator Barry M. Goldwater, photographs, certificates, and newspapers.
