BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE: Charles H. Orme Jr., born 1918 in Phoenix, AZ, was the son of Minna Vrang Orme and Charles H. Orme Sr., known as “Chick.” His parents were both graduates of Stanford University and believed in the necessity of a good education. They left their dairy farm in Phoenix and bought a ranch in Arizona’s high desert country. They opened a one-room schoolhouse to educate their three children as well as the five children of their ranch employees. This one-room schoolhouse later grew to be The Orme School.

Like his parents, Charles Jr. also graduated from Stanford University in 1941. He then served as the Headmaster of The Orme School from 1945 until his retirement in 1987. Under his guidance the school gained a national reputation among private schools. He was extremely active in both his professional and personal life. He was President of the Arizona Stanford Club, President of the Arizona Association of Independent Schools from 1964-1968, a member of the Newcomen Society since 1964, and a Board Member for the Arizona Historical Foundation.

ORGANIZATION NOTE: This collection primarily has records about The Orme School which was established in 1929 on a working ranch of 40,000-acres of land in Mayer, Arizona. Starting with eight students, the school had only grown to fifteen students after World War II. The school either needed to grow or cease to exist. In 1945, Charles Jr. became the headmaster and took over that role from his father. In 1947, the school became a prep school and began to accept students from 8th-12th grades. The family invested $20,000 in improvements for new buildings and in 1962, the school was incorporated as a not-for-profit institution, and a twenty-eight-member Board of Trustees was established. Among honorary trustees were Senator Barry Goldwater and the actor James (Jimmy) Stewart. Today the school has nearly 200 students and still holds true to its mission based upon the values of Tradition, Excellence, and Character.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE: This collection is arranged into three series; Series I: Administrative; Series II: Correspondence; Series III: Personal. Files are arranged alphabetically within each series.

Series I: Administrative contains records dealing with issues concerning the school and range in topics such as building construction, commencement, conferences, gifts to the school, fundraising and legal issues. Series II: Correspondence relates to activities about The Orme School. Of interest is correspondence with prominent individuals such as Sandra Day O'Connor, actor Jimmy Stewart, Senator Barry Goldwater, Senator Dennis DeConcini, Governor Jack Williams and others. Series III: Personal contains files regarding Charles Jr.'s personal memberships, trips taken, gifts given to The Orme School, and Stanford University communication. Of note is a file on Senator Barry Goldwater that contains the commencement speech he delivered to The Orme School in 1975 as well as a eulogy and a reflection written and delivered by Charles Jr. in 1998 after the death of the Senator.
