No. of Items: 13 Boxes
Approx. 5.5 cu. ft.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Rawghlie Clement Stanford (1878-1963), life-long Democrat and former governor and Supreme Court justice of Arizona, moved to Phoenix in 1882. R.C. Stanford served with the 34th U.S. Volunteers in the Philippines (1899-1901), during the Spanish-American War. He studied at the Tempe Normal School and the Stanford University School of Law. He was admitted to the territorial bar at Tombstone in 1905.

In 1909, he moved his law practice to Phoenix. Elected judge of Maricopa County Superior Court in 1914, Stanford served two terms (1915-1922). He presided over the 1916 gubernatorial contest between Thomas E. Campbell and George W.P. Hunt. Although the judge ruled in favor of Campbell, the Arizona Supreme Court overturned this decision.

Stanford ran for Governor in 1936 and successfully defeated Dr. B.B. Moeur. Stanford served a two-year term (1937-1938), and did not seek reelection. After a brief period in private law practice, he defeated Alfred C. Lockwood for a seat on the Arizona Supreme Court in 1943. Stanford served two terms (1943-1955) and retired as Chief Justice. He participated in more than 1,000 Supreme Court decisions, writing 200 of them.

Rawghlie Stanford was the state coordinator for the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign and served as a presidential elector. He was involved in real estate as well. Stanford homesteaded and developed large tracts of land including a section north of the Arizona Canal and east of the Biltmore Hotel.

Stanford married Ruth Butchee (1880-1957), in 1906. Mrs. Stanford was active in civic affairs. She was president of the Mary Brodie chapter of the United Spanish War Veterans auxiliary and president of the Pioneer District Women's Club of which she was a founding member. Mrs. Stanford was also the Superintendent of the Cradle Roll department of the First Presbyterian Church of Phoenix.

The Stanfords had seven children. These include sons R.C. Jr., judge of the Maricopa County Superior Court; Sharon, Phoenix attorney; and, Roscoe, state highway department official. Daughters include Mardie Stanford Marquess, Mary Ruth Stanford, and Lois Stanford Palmer, a Phoenix real estate broker.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The R.C. Stanford Collection consists primarily of correspondence, newsclippings, and business records relating to the activities of R.C. Stanford and his family. The material spans the period 1882-1978 and is arranged in three subgroups: (1) political; (2) Personal; and (3) Business. Common series within these subgroups include Correspondence, Legal Records, Newsclippings, and Miscellany. The collection, consisting of approximately 5.5 cubic feet, is contained within 12 boxes of varying sizes and 1 oversized folder.

Subgroup One contains materials dealing with the political career of R.C. Stanford who served as Judge of Maricopa County Superior Court, Governor of Arizona, Judge of Arizona Supreme Court, and state campaign coordinator for the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign. Materials also pertain to the political activities of his immediate family. Essential series include 1) Correspondence, 1917-1962, 2) Printed Matter, 1934-1961, 3) Legal Records, 1906-1960, 4) Newsclippings, 1914-1963, and 5) Miscellaneous, 1915-1961. Included within this subgroup are materials pertaining to Stanford's campaigns, and activities and retirement from the Arizona Supreme Court. Series Four, Newsclippings, comprises the bulk of this subgroup and contains extensive information on all aspects of Stanford's political career.

Another important subgroup is Subgroup Two which deals with the personal aspects of Stanford and includes the activities of his wife, Ruth Butchee Stanford, and his children. Series include 1) Diaries, 1894-1957, 2) Correspondence, 1896-1962, 3) Newsclippings, 1901-1976, 4) Ruth Stanford, 1931-1957, 5) R.C. Stanford Funeral, 1963, 6) Stanford Family, 1915-1951, and Miscellaneous, 1882-1961. Series One, Diaries, is composed mostly of Ruth Stanford's diaries but also includes assorted though limited notebooks belonging to R.C. Stanford. The Correspondence series is a substantial part of this subgroup and includes letters between R.C. and Ruth Stanford, and letters to R.C. Stanford from various sources. The Miscellaneous series (Series Five) contains assorted materials and artifacts relating primarily to Mr. Stanford.

The final subgroup relates to the business and real estate activities of R.C. Stanford and his family. Series include 1) Correspondence, 2) Legal, 3) Maps, and 4) Miscellaneous. Materials are related to Stanford's real estate activities including the development of Stanford Hills, a large section of land he homesteaded near the Biltmore Hotel. The Legal series includes leases, deeds, and other official documents related to these activities. The Maps Series contains various surveys and development plans.

The R.C. Stanford collection also contains a number of oversized materials stored in an oversized box and an oversized folder located in the AHF map case. These materials are listed under the series which they were removed from and are also listed in a separate inventory list of the box and the folder.

The R.C. Stanford Collection was donated by Lois Stanford Palmer of Phoenix, Arizona in 1992.
